CERTIFICATION SERVICES

FOR YACHT MANUFACTURERS

Expand Your Global Market Reach with CE & UKCA Certification

Andaman Marine Surveyors (AMS) in conjunction with HPi Verification Services (HPiVS Ireland) offer CE and UKCA certification services for vessels up to 24 meters across South East Asia.

These certifications are essential for Yacht Manufacturers looking to enter the European and UK markets.

→ CE Certification

CE ensures that your vessel complies with EU regulations, allowing you to import into the European Economic Area (EEA).

CE certification is also recognized in other international markets, including Australia and New Zealand, providing you with a wider global reach.

The team behind popular Youtube channel @svdelos has turned to AMS & HPiVS for peace of mind that their custom-build aluminium catamaran Delos 2.0 complies with EU regulations.

Why did they choose AMS & HPiVS? Brian Trautman, who has been sharing his global sailing adventures with an audience of millions for 13 years, explains:

"Proceeding with the CE RCD Cat A certification process for Delos 2.0 gives us confidence that we're meeting stringent safety and quality standards. It's something that we as owners look to for peace of mind, as well as our insurance company. Since we're a custom build, and not a typical production run, AMS & HPiVS has been great in working with us to find the correct path towards CE RCD Cat A Certification."

Contact Andaman Marine Surveyors (AMS) today to find out how our certification services can assist you in accessing new markets and ensure compliance with CE and the Small Craft (ISO) Standards.

→ UKCA Certification

UKCA is required for vessels entering the UK market, ensuring compliance with post-Brexit standards.
